Who are Central Heating NZ?

Central Heating New Zealand is the largest specialist central heating company in the country.

Client Desires...

To have a tradeshow display that was able to house their heavy radiators whilst being light enough to ship around the country and simple enough to install themselves.

“Thanks to Display Solutions for providing us with a high quality display system that is flexible enough to suit the variety of shows and events we promote Central Heating New Zealand at.

It is easily assembled by one or two staff members, and every time the finished display looks extremely professional. They also persevered with our display to enable it to hold two radiators and a gas boiler.

Having working radiators on our stand has truly been the best way to exhibit central heating to our potential customers and has made all the difference in the success of our displays.”
